The playing of the Doyle brothers was a decided feature from a local standpoint. Pitted against Dewhurst and Carpenter, the pick of the Philadelphia team and Light-weight Boxing Championship rated among the best players of the North in both singles and doubles, the formidable Washington pair were vic-torlous in both. The doubles came their way after an exciting and well-played match, with scores of 6-1, 0-6, and 6-4. visitor with scores of 6-2, 7-5.

Doyle Defeats Dewhurst.

The former match was looked upon as the important one of the day's play, and was witnessed by a large crowd of club members. Both contestants played in a finish championship form, and amazed the onlookers with cleverly executed strokes. Doyle won the first set after an unusually strong finish, with six games to his opponent's three. He won the second match hands down, with the score of 6-4, showhad great control of a back-hand stroke, which he used continually, while his opponent resorted to a fore-hand crosscourt stroke to gain his points.

A closely contested and interesting match was that between Trotter, of the Philadelphia club, and Cake, of Washington. The visitor won out on the third set after clever place shots which completely baffled his opponent. Results in intercity matches follow:

Palmer Plays Doyle.

During the afternoon Richard Palmer, Chase tournament, put in an appearance and agreed to take on Dewhurst and "Connie" Doyle in single matches. announcement to this effect brought together a large gallery, and the matches developed into the most interesting of the Dewhurst and Palmer figured in two interesting sets, each player being credited with a win. The Philadelphian started off with surprising form, and for a time threatened to play his opponent off his feet. Four of the first five games came the way of the Quaker, but after this he weakened. He copped the first set by a slight margin, but was an easy victim in the second, when he retired in

The local man proved a real tartar for the champion and won both sets handily, with scores of 7-6 and 6-4. The result of the match was the cause of much lively conversation, and the followers of the Washington player are already claiming a victory for their favorite when he venus, b. m., by Monocacy (Farhner). meets Palmer again next Saturday after-noon for the possession of the trophy.

"Homes of a Hundred Ideas"

HE WASHINGTON HERALD has purchased of Middaugh & Shannon one of their "Homes of a Hundred Ideas," the particular Home being located at 24 Bryant street northwest, two blocks north of W street, undoubtedly the most desirable location in the entire city of Washington. Every one is urged to visit this beautiful Home, as to see it is to learn what a really modern home should look like. It is a marvel of beauty from basement to top floor, and contains eight rooms and a bath. More may be learned of it, however, by seeing it for yourself. We should like to have a letter from you, telling us your honest opinion of it.
